Differentiators

Since 1963 the Commercial Food Equipment Service Association (CFESA) has been the highest level of certification in the commercial food equipment industry pushing standards and providing a benchmark for superior parts and service. Commercial Parts & Service is one of only 34 companies in North America recognized as a CFESA Certified Company with over 55 certified technicians that meet those standards. With over 5 million OEM parts in stock we have the parts to fix it the first time.
